BOUND BODIES OF TWO BOYS FOUND IN CANAL

AIR TRANSPORTATION STARTED ON COAST

The CORE

Another acrimonious debate over the administration's Nicaraguan policy burst forth in the senate yesterday when Senator Dill (D) of Washington demanded immediate withdrawal of American military forces from that country.

His broadside brought a prompt reply from Senator Borah who revealed that the Senate foreign relations committee has no intention of reporting Dill's resolution providing for such a withdrawal.

With the simplest of burial services, recital of the Lord's prayer by the commanding officer, the five American marines killed February 27 at Darail, were buried near the spot where they fell. The graves were marked temporarily by wooden crosses.

While a motion for a new trial for Dr. Amante Rongetti, sentenced to die in the electric chair for an illegal operation, was prepared by his attorney a sweeping investigation into complaints of intimidation by state witnesses was started yesterday. The physician is the first man in the history of the country to receive the death penalty for this crime. He was found guilty of the death of Loretta Enders, 19, unwed mother.

GOV. ASSURES STATE AID FOR TUNNEL HIWAY

MARTINEZ, March 2.—Assurance that the State authorities recognize the fact that the tunnel road highway, in fact the entire Victory Highway route from the Antioch bridge through Contra Costa to the Alameda county line is no longer a problem for this county alone to consider, but is a part of a general Statewide and national highway system, entitled as such to State and federal aid, even though it may not be listed on the records as such, was given by Governor C. C. Young, Bert Meek, director of the bureau of public works and A. R. Heron, chief of the bureau of finance.

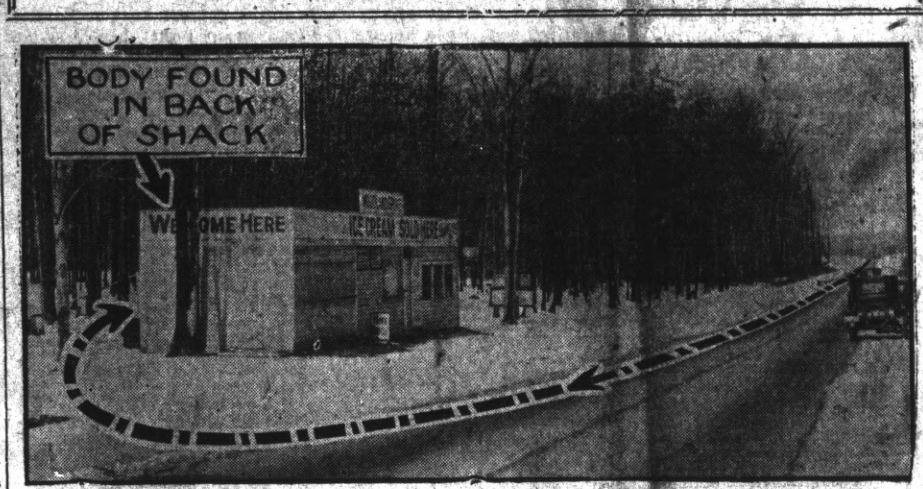

The Governor conferred for over an hour with Supervisors W. J. Buchanan, R. J. Trembath, Oscar Olsson and Zeb Knott and District Attorney A. B. Tinning, who sought to elicit from the heads of the State departments statements similar to those credited to them by Contra Costa's legislators, who were also present at the conference.

That the Victory Highway through Contra Costa is the western terminus of a national highway; that this route and in particular the tunnel road from Walnut Creek to the inter-county line is now a unit in a great State-wide highway system, bearing a volume of traffic that makes its prima facie, a primary highway, was freely admitted by the governor and his aides.

They were also frankly outspoken in assuring the Contra Costa authorities that the tunnel road will be the first highway to be taken over by the State as quickly as the reorganized highway department has completed its program for maintaining the roads which are now included in the State system.

As to when this might be, none of the State officials would commit themselves, but with that assurance the Contra Costa authorities were well content for they too appreciate the numerous problems which must first be solved before the route can become a part of the State's highway system.

Woman Found Cremated In Jersey Woods

REVELLING THE WILDEST STORIES by detective fiction writers, mystery surrounding the horrible death of a well-dressed woman, who was burned alive in the woods near Bernardsville, N. J., is still unsolved by the police. A retired banker with his chauffeur, saw fire lighting up the rear of gas station (arrow) and turned off highway at point indicated. They found a living woman in the blaze's center. She died without revealing her identity, but no signs of violence of any kind were found on the body. She is believed to be Miss Margaret Brown of Buffalo.

Fire Destroys Martinez Odd Fellows Hall

MARTINEZ, March 2.—Damage estimated at $1500 was caused to the Odd Fellows hall here at 4 o'clock this morning from a fire that is believed to have started on the work bench of S. Babitzki, auto wrecker. Once gaining headway over the ground floor, the flames broke through the roof and spread to the second floor. No damage was done to the second floor beyond a few scorched and burned places along the walls of the banquet room and kitchen.

According to Fire Chief John Briones, the fire must have smoldered for some time, but could not gain headway because of lack of air circulation.

When the fire department arrived on the scene, the flames were breaking out windows and the front door. It was necessary to break down the sliding doors in the front of the building to gain entrance. The flames were rapidly put under control and but for a few smoldering places between the walls, danger for the fire again breaking out was removed.

Babitzki has used part of the lower floor for his work shop and storage room of automobile parts and Chief Briones said that spontaneous combustion was the probable cause of the blaze.

Several places on the outside of the building burned beyond repairs, making reconstruction necessary.

According to several members of the I. O. O. F., indications are that a new hall will be erected on the site. The loss is covered by insurance.

PERMIT ASKED FOR W. P. SPUR

MARTINEZ, March 2.—San Francisco Sacramento railroad company has applied to the Railroad Commission for authority to construct a spur track at grade across Cumberland street, Los Medanos street and East street in Pittsburg, and across Harbor street and Columbia street in the county area.

This is the first move of the Western Pacific, following Pittsburg's recent grant of franchise, to extend the Short Line tracks along Eighth street to tap the industrial area. Work is to be started as soon as the Railroad Commission grants the requisite authority.

Two Injured In Plane Crash Near Pittsburg

PITTSBURG, March 2.—Richard Mills, 19, was probably fatally injured, and John Peterson sustained injuries of undetermined severity this afternoon when an airplane piloted by Mills, a student aviator, and owned by Peterson, crashed at the Pittsburg air field at 2:15 o'clock.

The two men were brought to the county hospital here for treatment after being given first aid attention by Drs. H. E. Peters and Selb Marks at Pittsburg.

Mills sustained a broken jaw, fractured ribs and possible internal injuries. His death is feared. Peterson was severely hurt and may also be injured internally.

Mills was attempting to bring the plane to earth after a flight under Peterson's tuition. Spectators declared that when within fifty feet of the ground the nose of the plane suddenly turned downward. The two injured men were unable to extricate themselves from the wreckage.

Calpet Ready For Texas Co. Merger

More than 51 percent of the stock of the California Petroleum corporation has been deposited for exchange of the Texas Corporation, according to an announcement made last night by R. C. Holmes, president of the Texas Corporation.

Just how much more than the announced 51 percent of California Petroleum corporation shares have been deposited could not be learned last night, but enough stock has been deposited to make effective the acquisition of California Petroleum corporation by The Texas Corporation.

Today is the final day for the deposit of such shares unless, as is generally expected, the time limit may be extended to enable the Texas Corporation to acquire substantially larger holdings of the California Petroleum corporation's shares.

It was almost a certainty a week ago that the necessary 51 percent of the California Petroleum corporation's stock had been deposited for exchange of Texas Corporation's stock on the basis of one share of Texas for two shares of California Petroleum.

It was learned yesterday that additional stock of the Texas Corporation required to consummate the exchange had been listed on the New York Stock Exchange, effective on official notice of issue.

Rites Held For Bernard Weltner

Funeral services for the late Bernard Weltner of San Pablo were held from the chapel of Wilson and Kratzer yesterday afternoon and interment was in Sunset View cemetery. Rev. H. Stagg, of the San Pablo Baptist church conducted the funeral services.

The deceased was 60 years of age at the time of his death and was a native of Germany. He had lived in California for the past 12 years. His widow, Mrs. Kunigunda Weltner, and a daughter, Mrs. George Nash, survive him.

Funeralbearers were: H. Aichinger, H. H. Hays, H. Petto, J. Petto, H. Harkerson and M. Santos.

NEGROES ROB GAS STATION IN LAFAYETTE

MARTINEZ, March 2.—Two negroes both armed with automatic revolvers, about 11:30 o'clock this morning, staged a bold holdup of Phil Wing's garage on the tunnel road highway in Lafayette and seizing $25 from the cash register made their escape. While Wing jumping into his own car pursued the bandit pair at breakneck speed as far as the veteran's monument at Hookston.

For two miles, one of the negroes, facing about in the car in which the escape was made, held a gun on Wing and when the victim of the holdup realized that he could not catch the bandits, who turned off at the Hookston junction in the general direction of Pittsburg, he sped on to Martinez to report the slick-up to the sheriff's office here.

A cordon of armed deputy sheriffs, traffic police and municipal police was at once thrown out on every highway, bridge and ferry in Contra Costa county, while the shot gun squad from the Berkeley police station mounted guard on every highway along which the bandits might reach the east bay cities.

Wing described one of the negroes as about 25 years of age, weighing 160 pounds, 5 feet, 10 inches tall and wearing a brown suit, blue shirt and grey cap. The other was about the same age, 5 feet 8 inches in height, 160 pounds, slender build and wore a grey overcoat and cap.

The negro bandits escaped in a Hudson car, the entire right side of which had been scraped and dented as though in a recent crash, with but one license plate, that in front, bearing the numerals 184-647.

The one license plate attached to the bandit car is rightfully registered to a Ford truck owned by a Placerville business man.

Maiden Trip Of Two Ships Welcomed By Huge Throngs

(By Universal Service)
REDDING, March 2.—Carrying 20 passengers two air yachts arrived here from southern California at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Officials of the West Coast Air Transport company and newspapermen were aboard the big air crafts on their maiden voyages between Los Angeles and Portland. The planes are to engage regularly in the transport of passengers, beginning Monday from Portland to Seattle and from Portland to San Francisco.

Five hundred people flocked to Benton airport here, to welcome the air visitors, who stopped for the night as the guests of the local chamber of commerce.

Women's Dinner At Presbyterian Is Successful

The banquet room of the First Presbyterian church was taxed to its limits when more than one hundred and fifty women of the church were entertained by the men at an elaborate dinner. Some of the chairs in the church had to be taken up to provide room for the crowd. W. P. Cooper and C. R. Alexander were in charge of the sumptuous banquet. The tables were beautifully decorated in blue crepe paper and blue candles and centerpieces of yellow longhairs.

The Cathleen shop prepared the delicious turkey dinner which was served last night.

Miss Nellie Douglass, director of religious education in the church was the toastmaster and introduced those participating in the program. A reading was given by Marjorie Rose; Mrs. L. R. Jones sang a solo as did Mrs. Clarence Craig. A reading entitled "The Model Church" was given by Mrs. J. T. Conwell.

Mrs. Walter Crabb, president of the ladies aid; Mrs. C. R. Alexander, president of the missionary society; and Miss Sarah Spiro, president of the guild were introduced to those present. Each pledged loyalty to the new building campaign now in progress.

Dr. P. T. Amstutz gave the principal address of the evening. "The only safety for womanhood is the ideals the church stands for. Sometimes people say the church fails. But those who say that haven't helped the church. The product of the church has been young people with high ideals and a desire for service. Because of this, the church is worthy of our support, even our sacrifices."

Mainwaring Rites Held Yesterday

Many friends attended the funeral services yesterday afternoon for William Croma Mainwaring who passed away last Tuesday while engaged in his regular work at the San Pablo Pottery Point Richmond Aerie of Eagles conducted the services held at the parlors of Bert Curry.

Interment was made in Sunset View cemetery.

Mainwaring was the son of Mrs. Powell, brother of John Mainwaring of Silver Lake, Washington, and Mrs. Fred Cramer, all of Richmond, and the step-brother of George Bowditch. In addition to his widow, Mrs. Millie Mainwaring, the deceased also leaves the following step-children: Carl T. and R. S. Schack and Mrs. Mildred Turner, all of Richmond, and Elmo Schack of Modesto.

STEVE IMPROVEMENT NAMES COMMITTEE

Proposed plans for the improvement of East Shore Park made by the Steve Improvement club at their last meeting will be handled by a committee headed by Albert Hill, Louis Angell presided at the meeting. The following members will assist Hill: S. Carlson, John Greely and Louis Angell.

At the same time that the East Shore park question came before the club, the question of the improvement of Pullman avenue was brought for consideration, but nothing definite was decided. It is believed that the matter will be considered again later.

PERFECT CRIME DEATHS HINTED IN 2 MURDERS

CHICAGO, March 2.—The "perfect crime," the fiendish murder whose perpetrator is never discovered and the slayer lives in his ghastly glee is again in sight.

Messrs. Leopold and Loeb tried to commit the perfect crime; Hickman believed he had hit on the secret; hundreds of other criminals have failed.

Now, the discovery of the bodies of two little boys, their bodies bound with wire, in the ship canal to the south of Chicago is the greatest mystery the detective bureau has ever been called upon to solve.

The body of the first boy was taken from the canal ten days ago. The second body last night. The similarity of features and dress lead the detectives to believe they are brothers.

But their identity remains a mystery. Thousands of parents whose children are missing, have passed through the little undertaking establishment in Indiana harbor, where the bodies lie, seeking to identify. But still the boys are unnamed.

Search today began by dragging the canal in the belief that the boys' parents were disposed of in the same manner. So far the operation has been unsuccessful.

For mortuary examination of the bodies revealed that they were dead before they were thrown into the canal. There was no water in the lungs of either boy. Faces and heads of the two boys had been beaten in apparently with some blunt instrument.

There are many theories advanced by the various detectives on the case. One of these is that the boys were slain when ransom money demanded for their safe return was refused. Another is that is a fiendish murder such as that of Leopold and Loeb who killed little Bobby Franks.

Chief of Police James Egan of East Chicago, is leading the search for the parents of the unidentified boys.

Justice Hears Claims Suits

Four suits for the payment of bills were brought to the small claims court, conducted by Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Alstrom, yesterday afternoon.

Della Hart sued H. J. Martin for a bill of $7.55 which he is alleged to have paid while a tenant in the house of Martin. Hart was given judgment for that amount by the court.

S. F. Parker was given judgment for the amount of $28.55 against Paolo Ferraris as payment for damages sustained by Parker's car in an accident.

S. R. Welch made a claim for a bill amounting to $19.25 against Harcourt Hill. Hill paid the bill and the case was dismissed.

Della Hart brought suit against Howard Woods for a garage bill amounting to $4.00. The case was postponed until more evidence could be gathered.

SCHWARTZ RECOVERS

PURE PORK SAUSAGE

Pure pork sausage is no longer easy to get. Yet if you know where to go it can be had today, the very same kind you used to get and like so well with hot cakes and coffee. You naturally expect other exceptional things from a market which specializes in such an article. You will find it listed in the Buyers Guide, on the classified page.

Three bandits obtained $60,000

when they held up H. Walker, messenger for the Pacific National Bank and Frank Trop guard in a daylight robbery yesterday in Los Angeles. The bandits armed with sawed off shotguns forced the car of the bank employees to the curb. There they looted the machine of the money.

Order for immediate building and repairs at the state industrial home for adult blind in Oakland were issued yesterday by the state department of public works in Sacramento. A contract, valued at $11,110 was awarded for the work.

Special Services At Unity Center

The program to be held at the Unity Center Sunday morning at 11 o'clock will be given by Professor Leaves, musical director of Berkeley, and Mrs. Josselyn, lecturer from San Francisco.

Glenwood Walsh will play a violin solo and will be accompanied by Eva Calvert. "Hark, Hark My Soul" will be sung by the chorus.

Following Mrs. Josselyn's talk congregational singing and two more violin solos will conclude the program. The public has been invited to attend.

Boy Scouts Topic Of El Cerrito Lions

El Cerrito Lions held their regular meeting in Miami Inn yesterday and discussed the Boy Scouts movement, being considered by the club. Solos and community singing comprised the rest of the program. Louis Strard presided.

BIRTH CERTIFICATES

One birth certificate was filed at the office of the City Health department yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fernandez are the parents of a boy, born February 23, at their home in San Pablo, according to the certificate.

Building Permits Total $7200

Permits for the construction of two cottages and a garage, totaling $7200, were granted by City Building Inspector Arthur J. Hurley, yesterday.

C. M. Hines will build a cottage on the south side of Clinton avenue between Twenty-eighth and Thirtieth street at a cost of $3600.

Marcus Kobe will construct a garage on the east side of Twenty-third street, between Florida and Ohio streets, costing $100.

M. Gibb was given a permit to construct a cottage on the east side of Eighth street, between Barrett and Nevins avenues at a cost of $3500.

Troop 5 Boy Scouts Holds Inspection

Inspection was held and games were enjoyed when the members of Troop 5, of the Boy Scouts met in Scout hall last night. An instructive talk on first aid was given by Mr. Hall and tickets were given out for the whist party which is to be given in Odd Fellows hall, Saturday evening, March 24, at 7 o'clock.

Hume Vaughan, patrol leader, led the meeting.

ROTARY TOURNAMENT

Approximately forty players entered the golf tournament staged by the San Francisco Rotary club held on the Berkeley Country club course yesterday. Following the games a dinner was served at the clubhouse.

100 PER CENT AMERICANISM

Ever since Mayor Thompson of Chicago went on his wild rampage there has been more or less talk, the country over, regarding citizens who claim 100-per cent Americanism. There have been some good American citizens who claim that such percentage of patriotism is not necessary for the making of an excellent law-abiding citizen of these United States. They would have one believe that anything from over 50 to 98 per cent is sufficient. There are still, however, those who believe that any true American must possess Americanism to its utmost.

A dollar bill intact is worth 100 cents. One half of a dollar bill is not, however, worth 50 cents or a single penny for that matter. If the maker of an automobile placed even 98 per cent of the required amount of parts in the motor it is very doubtful if the contraption would be worth a "tinker's hoot." Somebody has well said: "Knowing half your subject doesn't help much. It's always the other half you need. It is the same with everything that is worth while. There is no half-way business about one's being a good American citizen. If one does not desire to possess 100-per cent of Americanism, that person does not care about being a good American citizen."

Mrs. Douglas Robinson, sister of that truly 100-per cent American, Theodore Roosevelt, addressing school children in New York the other day said: "Don't let anyone tell you it isn't right to be a 100-per cent American. Where are you going to cast your life, your home, your livelihood, to that place you should be 100-per cent loyal." And Mrs. Robinson is right. To be half or even 98 per cent loyal is not being loyal at all. No business man who is not 100-per cent interested in his business can hardly expect his business to pay the dividends that accrue to the man who is loyal to his business to the last drop.

The trouble seems to be in many of the things which are looked upon as so entirely wrong in the country today is that there is too much of a feeling of confidence on the part of those who measure up somewhat closely to the standard instead of attaining the real goal. A man who is paid to do a full day's work of eight hours does not earn his money if he quits at seven hours and is himself satisfied in so doing.

The trouble is that there is too much of this 50-per cent Americanism when the real need is for men and women of the 100-per cent type. Any citizen who is content with less than 100-per cent of Americanism in his soul is too easily satisfied.

If the Leviathan in 1917 and 1918 had had the kind of luck it has been having in the years since the war, the Allies would still be waiting for the A. E. F. to arrive in France.

When you say a man gets his living out of dirt you must explain whether you mean farming, politics or literature.

Let Kiddies Play Hard

Checkcloth and ashes are not being worn very much nowadays but sackcloth and ashes—that's a different matter. Even the youngest can wear them and be in anything except a penitential mood. Each of the little frocks shown here, and many other styles besides, can be made out of ordinary flour bags to be bought for a very few cents apiece from almost any baker.

The cloth is about 36x40 inches, soft, closely woven and creamy in color. The lining is removed by covering it with lead or herosene overnight and then washing the bag in lukewarm water. It will wash and iron perfectly and stand any number of hard tubbings. One or two bags are needed for each frock or play-suit, depending upon the size of the child and whether or not you want little knickers to match.

In one instance, a quaint, Chinese effect is had by making the frock collarless and binding the edges and armholes with a bright red binding. Chinese symbols embroidered in red make an appropriate decoration.

Other possibilities include combining the cloth with checked gingham or plain chambray for hem, yoke and sleeve bands, or using white. Peter Pan collars and cuffs, buttonholed in red, green or blue. A large two-way pocket in this little boy's suit has an aggressive goose keeping guard over the treasure inside.

VIGOROUS HEALTH

Many a patient affected with quietness, peace and poise that muscles twitching, easily irritated, hypersensitive to noises and with a constant feeling of unrest would give much for a few hours of calmness. Even persons in normal health would be glad if they could be assured that they would never be "upset."

Calmness, like everything else, depends upon right thinking and right living in general. It is the quietest, peace and poise that come with perfect confidence and bodily health. When we know the laws which govern our being we have confidence that we can control ourselves and our reactions to environment. Then we are calm, because when we are in control there is nothing to be disturbed about.

However, nothing undermines mental confidence as much as ill health. Physical weakness and symptoms of various kinds give rise to fear and worry. Toxins in the system act as nerve irritants, so that it is almost impossible to be calm. In order to avoid all health and nerve irritation, it is not only necessary to keep away from bad habits but to make constructive use of right thinking, good foods, exercise, deep breathing, cold baths and sleep.

Various fruits such as oranges, bananas and strawberries, cause a rash to appear on my face. What is the cause and cure. I intended taking an orange diet for anemia, but I do not know whether it would be advisable under these circumstances. I have been taking pepsin tablets. J.

If a single fruit causes a skin rash it may be an idiosyncrasy, but when a number of fruits cause trouble it is generally a result of toxemia. In all probability you could take an orange diet without difficulty, especially if the juice is diluted with water. If any special difficulty is experienced vegetable broth could be taken for a few days and the oranges tried again. The use of the pepsin tablets will have to be discontinued as they have no curative value, but will interfere with results.

I have a very poor figure, being quite thin in the arms and upper body. All my weight is in my hips, thighs and legs. What exercise will create a more symmetrical development? H. B.

Rather slow, heavy exercises such as chinning the bar, pushing the body up from the floor with the arms, bending the head in all directions against the resistance of the hands and sitting up and down and arching the back while in reclining position, are used to develop the upper body. For the legs, lighter, long continued movements, such as rope skipping, kicking up wards in all directions and long walks are used. For best results a strictly natural diet, cold showers, deep breathing and plenty of sleep must all be given attention.

I have been suffering with pains near my appendix, the doctor says it is gas, but I am afraid there may be something more serious. Kindly advise. M. JOHN.

If the doctor says it is only gas, probably you do not have appendicitis, as most doctors are all too ready to diagnose this condition. In any case, from your description, there does not appear to be any possibility that an operation would be required. The usual natural method in such a case would be a fast for up to seven days, with oranges on the first and last days, and an enema daily. This is followed by the milk diet, if possible, otherwise by a largely raw fruit and vegetable diet.

I am 80 years of age, and the doctor says I have tuberculosis of the bladder. Is there any cure for this? JOE.

There is a cure for anything. Whether or not any particular individual gets well, however, will depend on his vitality, mental attitude and willingness to take the proper treatment. Time will no doubt be required in this case. The usual treatment would be several days on vegetable broth every month, with the milk diet between, together with sunbaths or ultra-violet radiations, alternate hot and cold sitz baths and moderate exercise.

Affairs of the Heart and Your Marriage Problems

Patricia Lee

Patricia Lee answers questions relating to problems of married life. Names and address should be added to letters as a mark of good faith but will not be published. Readers who desire private answers should inclose a stamped self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of typing, etc. Because of space limitations it is not possible to print answers to all letters received, and readers who wish an early reply should take advantage of this special service. On account of the large quantity of mail coming to this department, about ten days should be allowed for a reply. Write to Patricia Lee, care of this paper.

Dear Patricia Lee—

Please try to help me with my problem. My parents were divorced when I was young. Mother married twice after, only to give my sister and me a chance for an education. Father was never religious but always wanted us to go to Sunday school and to church. As far back as I remember she told us dad wasn't any good, and of course the result was that we hated him. After years he found me and came to me. He is an old man and expects me to care for him. God knows I have tried, but in spite of it all I hate him to such an extent I can't treat him with respect. My husband tells me I am wicked, but he never did a thing for us and he never says one kind thing about my mother.

MARTHA.

I believe it is too late for you to try to overcome your antipathy to your father. It has been implanted in your mind ever since you were a child—and you are not responsible for this feeling now. I think, therefore, that it is a mistake to try to live with your father. Can't you and your sister agree to give a certain amount for his support, each week? It is a moral obligation, to my mind; to see that our parents are not in want. But I should advise you against ruining your home life and your peace of mind by living with him.

QUESTIONS OF FASHION
EVENING AND SPORTS
With short histories of this, and brief outlines of that, and stories of what-not, the fashion expert of "Delineator" decided to compile a "Brief Outline of the Mode for 1928. Here it is:

For evening—The use of two types of gowns.
Soft floating dresses of a vague outline in chiffon crepe or lace. Crisp frocks of the stiffest silks, tulle, slipper satin and brocade. Tight hip lines, blouses, broken hems. The longer is back line for both the bouffant and wispy types of dress. Colors running to off whites, yellows, greens, brown, beige, navy.

For sports—Dresses divided into two classes.
The more formal type of sport costume for general wear in town. The cardigan, pull on, skirt and coat costume for the country and the use of combination of materials—tweed, with jersey or crepe. The vogue of natural chartruese green, yellow, white, dusty shades.

Dear Patricia Lee:

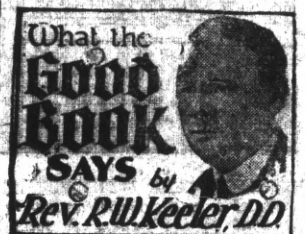

I am 33 years of age and engaged to a young lady of 30, whose constant demands are driving me to despair. She knows I have nothing but what I work for, and yet she recently bought, on time payments a parrot for $100.

She had a cousin sign my name to a contract for a radio, price $125 and bought a fur coat, also on time, for $225. She is rather sickly and does not go to health resorts; therefore, for the past year I have been regularly giving her $10 per week. I met her while traveling through the farming district of Montreal. That was about a year and a half ago. Since then her folks have died and she came to the city. I think the world of her, and she tells me the same thing, but I don't believe her. It would be hard for me to give her up and forget her, but I have decided to abide by your advice. HARRY.

Dear Harry:

Yes, I think it will be hard for you to forget her. You will miss the constant, selfish exactions of this woman you are "engaged" to. An engagement, dear Harry, is a happy agreement, nothing more. When you allow your fiancée to spend your money foolishly and extravagantly and yet doubt her love, it becomes a bond of no value. I think you have continued to see this woman because you wanted or expected her to reform. But when you try to change a woman of 30 you are wasting your time.

Q. How were Paul and Silas freed from prison at Philippi?—J. C. Rye, N. Y.

A. "Suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken; and immediately all the doors were opened, and every one's hands were loosed."—The Acts XVI:26.

Q. When did a measure of flour sell for a shekel?—E. B. Richmond, Cal.

A. "And it came to pass as the king saying. Two measures of barley for a shekel, and a measure of fine flour for a shekel, shall be tomorrow about this time in the gate of Samaria."—Matthew XXIII:33.

A BORN SKEPTIC
I do not claim to appreciate the inwardness of the following, but present it to students of the child mind.

A woman friend of mine who is interested in the Boy Scout movement saw a "wolf cub" smiling deviously after some one had told a fairy story.

"You don't believe in fairies?" she asked him.

"No," he replied, "my father is a policeman."—C. A. in London Daily News.

THE JAZZ SINGER, starring Al Jolson, in a Warner Bros. picture. Most of this novel, it is based upon the play by Samson Raphaelson.

SYNOPSIS

Because Jackie, son of Cantor Rabinowitz, prefers jazz to Synagogue music, he leaves home. Ten years later, through Morris Dink, a dancer, Jackie, now Jack Robin, becomes a musical comedy jazz singer. The Cantor, discovering his son's profession, disowns him. Jack's show opens at the Elks of York Kippur. Dink, the leader of the show, sends out of Mary's love for Jack, sends out of his money, leaving Lee, the producer, dependent on Jack for success. Yudelzon, the Cantor's friend, comes to tell Jack that his father is ill and asks him to sing in the Synagogue that night. Jack refuses because of Mary's and Lee's belief in him.

"Mr. Yudelzon—Mr. Yudelzon, did you find Jackie? Is all right, no?" her voice rose in her eagerness and excitement.

"Yeh, I found Jackie," Yudelzon said apologetically. "But he says I should explain he can't come tonight."

"Oh, oh, oh, oh," Mrs. Rabinowitz moaned, sinking into a chair. "He can't come—Jackie can't come. Did you explain him his papa is sick?" She tried to gather her wits about her and understand this strange situation. For a brief moment she thought it possible that Jackie might not have understood.

"Sure," I explained him. Yudelzon nodded, "but he says what he acts tonight in a show what costs two hundred thousand dollars, and his boss won't let him go."

"In the theater—and his papa is maybe dying?" Mrs. Rabinowitz shook her head mournfully, utterly incapable of absorbing this entirely new and strange idea. "Maybe homes yet tonight when his boss shouldn't see him?" she suggested hopefully.

Yudelzon shrugged his shoulders. "Nein, nein, Mrs. Rabinowitz," he said. "Jackie sings by the theater tonight. He ain't coming to the Synagogue."

The two sat and stared disconsolately at each other. Mrs. Rabinowitz was trying to turn the matter over in her dazed mind. She was certain that she must do something. If Jackie would only come closer to her, she would surely tell him to come closer to her.

It was mental. It was the worry, the heartache, the blow that he had received when he found that his own son was singing jazz songs in the theater. If the Cantor could only once hear his boy's voice in the Synagogue, she attempted to think. "For the first time in forty years I can't sing tonight in the Synagogue." His closed his eyes, exhausted by his emotion.

"Nu, nu, Yosele, you shouldn't think from such things. The doctor says you should just rest. And next Yom Kippur you should sing louder as ever. Gott zu helfen," she soothed.

The Cantor shook his head feebly. "It makes for the first time in five generations a Rabinowitz does not sing on the Day of Atonement." A tear stole down his cheek, and Mrs. Rabinowitz wiped it away softly. He lay quiet for a few minutes. Nothing disturbed the silence save the ticking of the clock.

The Cantor slowly moved his hand until it rested upon that of his wife. "Sara," he murmured. "I been dreaming Jackie come back to sing 'Kol Nidre'." "Oh, such a dream," he murmured. "Maybe God would forgive him—if he comes tonight and sing."

The mention of Jackie's name made Mrs. Rabinowitz start nervously. Suddenly she had an idea. Suppose she, herself, should go to the theater and try to bring Jackie back. She looked down at the Cantor to see whether he were going back to sleep.

"Am I a doctor or a lawyer? You should ask me such questions," Mrs. Rabinowitz replied in English. "I am worrying you who sing 'Kol Nidre' with Yom Kippur begin."

He turned as he heard the word door open and jumped up anxiously to the nurse, appearing a medicine bottle and spoon in her hand.

"The Cantor is he better?" Yudelzon asked anxiously. "I'm afraid not," the nurse shook her head. "There seems to be very little change. I'm waiting for the doctor now." Her startled sister rushed out into the kitchen, where she was quickly followed by Mrs. Rabinowitz.

Yudelzon returned to his chair, and rocked back and forth slowly. But once more he was interrupted. Clarence opened the door quietly and slipped into the room.

"Did you find Jackie?" he asked in a loud whisper. "Is he going to sing tonight?"

"Sure," I found him," Yudelzon said apologetically. "But he says I should explain he can't come tonight."

"Well, I'm having trouble with the choir. I think you'd better come over and see about it." Clarence paced the room nervously.

"Lovers!" Yudelzon ejaculated. "What's the matter now? The committee votes, don't they?"

"I know, but you promised that you'd bring Jackie down there, and the choir doesn't think he'll come. And if he doesn't they don't want to sing—they didn't like the idea in the first place and now they're all fighting among themselves."

"They don't want 'Yom Kippur' sing!" Yudelzon rose quickly and pushed his hat down further on his head.

"Well, they say that if Jackie doesn't come Levy'll sing, and he doesn't know any of the words, and even if he did his voice is not good enough, and that he'd be better off singing alone than spoiling the services with a choir."

"Hum! Yeh, they're right," Yudelzon said. "What can I do? The members are paying a special assessment five dollars for the Day of Atonement singing. If Levy sings they'll want we should give them the money back."

"Well, have you talked to my cousin, Avram Lipiski?" Clarence suggested. "He just came from Russia last week and he's living down here."

Yudelzon's face brightened at the thought. "Why didn't you speak from this before? Avram Lipiski I know—at least a voice he's got. I should speak from him yet. Come on, Clarence, first we go to the synagogue and explain them to the low-down Levy, and then we go to my cousin."

He took the young man by the arm and hurried him off.

In the Cantor's room Mrs. Rabinowitz was busy herself about the bed, straightening the pillows and now and then smoothing the forehead of her husband. The Cantor lay pale and emaciated in a semi-stupor. Once in a while he opened his eyes and glanced vaguely about the room, but he closed them again soon, as though the effort were too much for his feeble strength. After a while he opened his eyes, this time a little more brightly, and bestowed his wife to come closer to him. She lay down on the chair beside the bed and took his hand.

"Sara," he whispered weakly, "so long that Mrs. Rabinowitz had to lean forward to catch his words. "It's Yom Kippur tonight, isn't it?"

"Yeh, yeh, Koele," Mrs. Rabinowitz patted his hand soothingly. "I can't sing tonight, Sara," he looked up pathetically. "I can't sing tonight. For the first time in forty years I can't sing tonight in the Synagogue." His closed his eyes, exhausted by his emotion.

"Nu, nu, Yosele, you shouldn't think from such things. The doctor says you should just rest. And next Yom Kippur you should sing louder as ever. Gott zu helfen," she soothed.

The Cantor shook his head feebly. "It makes for the first time in five generations a Rabinowitz does not sing on the Day of Atonement." A tear stole down his cheek, and Mrs. Rabinowitz wiped it away softly. He lay quiet for a few minutes. Nothing disturbed the silence save the ticking of the clock.

The Cantor slowly moved his hand until it rested upon that of his wife. "Sara," he murmured. "I been dreaming Jackie come back to sing 'Kol Nidre'." "Oh, such a dream," he murmured. "Maybe God would forgive him—if he comes tonight and sing."

The mention of Jackie's name made Mrs. Rabinowitz start nervously. Suddenly she had an idea. Suppose she, herself, should go to the theater and try to bring Jackie back. She looked down at the Cantor to see whether he were going back to sleep.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there is no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless. And works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

Institute To Be Held In Berkeley March 6, 7, and 8

Statewide interest is being manifested in the first annual institute of International Relations to be held in Berkeley, March 6, 7, and 8. Mrs. Henry Francis Grady, president of the Political Science club, and chairman of the department of international relations of the Alameda district Federation of Women's club will have charge of the meet.

Support is being given this undertaking by the faculties of the University of California, Stanford University and Mills College and the Alameda County Federation of Women's club. In previous years attendance at the institutes of international relations was limited to those who aided in the improvement of international affairs, and the payment of a large fee. Such is not the case in this event and all who are desirous of widening the scope of their general education may attend. The institute is modeled after the annual Williamstown institute and the one held in Riverside last year.

Two sessions will be held in the morning, running simultaneously from 11:30 to 12:30, and three afternoon sessions of one hour each, from 1:30 to 4:30, consecutively.

The following speakers will be included on the program:

Graham Stuart, member of the political science department of Stanford University.

Chester Rowell, publicist and author, member of the board of regents, University of California.

Ng Phoon Chew, editor of the Chung Sai Yat Po, first Chinese daily paper to be published in the United States.

Elliot Grinnell Mears, educator and author, professor of geography, and international trade, Stanford University.

Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of Mills College.

Gerald Campbell, consul general for Great Britain, at San Francisco.

F. L. Lipman, president of the Wells Fargo bank, San Francisco.

E. Weibel, German counsel general, San Francisco.

Lincoln Hutchinson, economic advisor to Czechoslovakia, recently returned from Russia.

Prof. H. L. Priestly, University of California.

Dr. Herman Schwartz, Pacific School of Religion.

The ambassadors of good will, as the speakers are called, will be the honor guests at an "ambassadorial" dinner in the Hotel Oakland, March 8.

Paulsen To Talk Before Brotherhood

Councilman A. L. Paulsen has been invited to be the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Wesley Brotherhood when that body meets in the parlors of the Wesley Methodist church the evening of March 9. A dinner and program is being arranged, according to an announcement by Charles Wolf, president of the Brotherhood. The dinner has been set for 6:15 o'clock.

Offers Grapes As Cancer Cure

ANOTHER REASON why Mrs. Johanna Brandt (above), famous author and natural healer of South Africa, thinks the luscious looking bunch in her hand should be called "festive grape" is that a diet of them, she believes, destroyed cancer tissues in her body. She offered to prove it to doctors. They doubted her claim and now the offer is off.

G. I. Auxiliary Whist Party Success

The whist party given by the G. I. A. to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in Memorial hall, proved to be successful both socially and financially. Those given awards for high scores were Mrs. S. Tease, Mrs. F. Pope, Mrs. B. Jepson, Mrs. C. Can, Mrs. E. Johnson, Mrs. D. Ericson, Mrs. N. Bush and Mrs. B. Curtis. Mrs. Teebles won the pillow cases awarded.

The committee in charge of the event were: Mrs. R. V. Rich, Mrs. S. Bronson and Mrs. W. C. Doy. A brief business session was held prior to the whist and plans for another session on March 15, were made.

ZEPHYR REBEKAHS PLAN LUNCHEON

Members of the Zephyr Rebekah Sewing club presented Mrs. Margaret Allyn with a blanket for her baby when they met in the clubrooms. A covered dish luncheon was enjoyed at noon and the afternoon was spent in sewing. Mrs. Belle Davidson, vice-president was in charge of the meeting in the absence of the president, Miss Grace Curry. The Richmond Rebekah Sewing club members have been invited to attend the next meeting to be held on March 15.

KATE PRICE IN COMIC FILM AT THE CALIFORNIA

If life was made for laughter, whoever attends the California Theatre while "The Cohens and Kellys in Paris," the Universal-William Beaudine production, will live a complete life during the run of the picture.

"The Cohens and Kellys in Paris" is life jammed with wholesome humor, touches of pathos and comedy. It is a beautiful painting from the delicate brush of the great artist, William Beaudine, director of "Little Annie Rooney," and "Hold That Lion."

Each member of the all-star cast is admirably chosen. It is not a farce comedy, but it is drama of the relations between the Irishman and the Jew told with an eye always on the comic possibilities of the tale.

George Sidney, who was featured in the role of Cohen in the first "Cohen and Kellys," heads lines in the screamingly funny adventures of the Irish and Jewish families in Paris. J. Farrell MacDonald is co-featured as Kelly and gives an inimitable portrayal.

Verla Gordon and Kate Price are back again in their original roles of Mrs. Cohen and Mrs. Kelly, louder and funnier than ever.

George Astor furnishes 50 per cent of the good looks and many of the laughs in this hysterical production. Sue Carol represents the remaining 50 per cent of beauty and charm, while Charles Delaney is appearing as young Mr. Kelly, who marries the pretty Cohen girl and thereby engages the two families in a mad rush to Paris to break up the racial mistake, so that the Cohen grandchild will not be little Kellys.

Everything that can happen in Paris happens to the Cohens and Kellys, including an apache dance and a duel. The whole thing ends with one of the most exciting and hysterical sequences ever seen on the screen.

Other features include "Jail Birdies," a Bobby Vernon comedy, "Pick a Pet," a current news event.

A starkly realistic story of the sea out of the pages of the distant past is to be seen on the screen of the Richmond Theatre, where "The Blood Ship," a Columbia production, is the featured attraction. It tells a tale of the days when the clipper ship plied the seven seas and steam vessels were unknown. This was a time when only a real two-fisted man could follow the sea for a living. The captain of many of these "grayhounds" of the ocean were brutes incarnate. Such a one is featured in the film, and his maniacal treatment of the crew (poor brutes who were shanghaied aboard in the dead of night, is so vividly realistic, so much so, that when in the end he is thrashed to death in a thrilling fight to the finish, there is a sigh of satisfaction from the audience.

Many of the scenes in this melodrama are not pretty to look at, but they hold one spellbound nevertheless. As a contrast to the brutality and red blooded action is a sweet romance between a winsome lass and a sailor lad, who has, willingly shipped aboard the hell ship in order to be near her. The story never lags for a moment, and the theme and treatment are unusual and impressive. Hobart Bosworth is the featured star with Jacqueline Logan and Richard Arlen. The two latter carry the love interest. Others in the large cast are Walter James, Fred Kohler, Arthur Rankin and James Bradbury, Sr. The characterization is remarkable and has the stamp of authenticity. None of the sequences are forced, the whole proceeding along to a thrilling and logical climax. All in all, "The Blood Ship" can be checked off as one of the pictures worth while seeing. It is good entertainment, albeit somewhat "strong."

Other features include the eighth chapter of "The Crimson Flash" and a Felix Cat cartoon comedy.

7th Heaven To Be Shown At The Richmond Next Monday

The management of the Richmond Theatre have secured for showings next Monday and Tuesday, "7th Heaven," Fox Films epic picture version of the play by Austin Strong. This picture has been creating a sensation and playing to capacity houses all over the country and is considered one of the finest productions of the year. Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell are featured at the head of an all-star cast which includes Gladys Brockwell, Albert Gran, D. Butler, George Stone, Emilie Chau, and Marie Mosquini, Ben Bard and Brandon Hurst.

For all stomach and intestinal troubles and disturbances due to teething, there is nothing better than a safe Infants' and Children's Laxative.

DAMPIER WINS DECISION FROM GENE CLINE

Eddie Dampier of San Jose took the decision from Gene Cline in the Joe Rossi's fight show staged in El Cerrito last night. Dampier centered his attack on the body of Cline and wore his opponent down by the continual body punching. At the end of the ten rounds the decision was well earned by the younger and faster Dampier.

The best fight of the evening was the special event between Joe Limas, El Cerrito's pride, and Chitney Miller of San Francisco, colored boy of San Francisco. Limas knocked down the colored lad three times in the second round, and twice in the fifth round without hurting him apparently, for he came back and won a draw. The decision was highly popular with the crowd of rooters.

George Matty and Clyde Hendrick, each seen in the El Cerrito ring before this put on the semi-windup and ended the affair with a draw. Hendrick had his same style that won him a draw with Chick Roach of Vallejo, and Matty the hard hitting boy from the city was there to receive all that he had to offer.

Mmanuel Vasquez of Berkeley, took a decision from Joe Terris of Oakland in the second fight of the evening, and Irwin Olsen of San Francisco won a technical knockout over Doc Limas, who substituted for Jimmy Reeves in the curtain raiser. Limas had his eye closed in the first round and could not continue the fight when the bell for the fourth round sounded.

Inclement weather kept some of the crowd away from the fights, but the house was large enough to warrant the continuance of the good shows that have been put on during the past few months.

PROGRESSIVE TEA OF CIRCLE No. 5 WELL ATTENDED

A progressive tea party was attended by more than a score of members of Circle No. 5, of the Wesley Methodist Episcopal church at the home of Miss Gladys Baker, 718 Thirty-ninth street. Games, music and an impromptu program were enjoyed. Awards were given as a result of the games and dainty refreshments were served.

Presbyterian Aid Society Elects New Officers

Mrs. W. McCarthy was again elected president of the Stege Presbyterian Ladies Aid society when the members met yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the church. Mrs. V. E. Skiles will be vice-president; Mrs. H. Mountain, secretary and Mrs. Fred Wagner, treasurer.

A dinner will be given by the members Wednesday, March 28, at the church, and a silver tea has been planned for Friday afternoon, March 30. Mrs. N. Osner will be in charge.

Light refreshments were served at the close of the meeting yesterday.

MISSOURI CLUB TO PRESENT NEGRO COMEDY

"Aunt Mandy's Birthday," a negro comedy will be presented about the middle of April in one of the nearby towns, according to plans made by the Missouri club when the members were entertained at the home of Mrs. A. J. Davidson, 35 Twelfth street.

Plans were made to hold a "baby show" March 29, each member bringing her baby picture, and the person identifying the greatest number will be given an award.

A new member, Mrs. Clarence Harvey was received into the club. The next meeting will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Dora McAllister, 330 Twenty-ninth street, Friday, April 6.

Moscow Decree Puts End To Buying Girl Brides

(By Universal Service)

Moscow, March 2.—A federal decree smashing harems and outlawing the buying or kidnapping of girl brides and use of cave-man tactics in getting wives, has been drafted by the Soviet council of People's Commissars for ratification by the Central Executive committee as the only remedy against "pagan horrors which despite educational propaganda, persists in the eastern portions of our Union."

Fearing wholesale abandonment of harem girls, however, the decree would compel a harem lord to house the feed his wives even after divorcing all but one of them "until such a time as they are capable of supporting themselves and find new quarters." Violations of the law are made punishable by one year imprisonment at hard labor and a fine not exceeding 500 rubles.

The decree against "Crimes of Convention," as it is called would jail for one year also any man who pays "money, cattle, camels or other material gods" for a bride and punishes even more severely parents or relatives who accept such "bribes of human bondage." The penalty for any sort of forcible marriage of a woman is fixed at two years imprisonment.

Five articles of the decree are directed against tribal warfare and codes of honor. Tribes are to be prohibited from declaring war against each other for any reason. The payment of blood money by one tribe to another for murders or thefts committed against it will be stopped. No tribal chieftain or medicine man will hereafter have the right to torture or behead any criminal.

The decree applies particularly to Crimea, Turkestan, the Mongolian border Republics and Siberia. Its enforcement is admitted to be a herculean task. The Communist parties in these regions have attempted to wipe out harems and other evils for years without success, and it is doubtful whether the new law will help.

'Wonder Child' Violinist Taking Russia by Storm

(By Universal Service)

Moscow, March 2.—Boris Felicent, 12-year-old Russian "wonder child" violinist who fiddles on a 150-year-old $10,000 violin, has taken his native land by storm.

Interrupting his studies in Berlin long enough to give a dozen concerts in Moscow and Leningrad as a master predestined to surpass Kreisler, Elman and Haberman. He moved several audiences to tears. Women went into hysterics. Many crossed themselves over and over again shrieking incoherently something about the music of God. And it all came from a frail speck of a lad on the stage who himself was trying hard to hold back the tears.

"Wonderkind! Wonderkind!" they cried, the German word being the Russian as well.

Of poor, but well-educated parents, Boris wielded the bow before he stopped playing with teddy bears. At eight years he was admitted to the Leningrad Conservatory of Music by special intercession of Commissar of Education A. V. Lunacharsky, who had State Fairgrounds.

been the lad's sponsor for years. At 10 the Central Executive committee advanced funds to send him to study with Prof. Wilhelm Hess in Berlin. He speaks four languages, Russian, German, English and French. In another year M. Lunacharsky obtained the loan of a famous violin for Boris from the Leningrad museum of music. He will probably get an even better one a little later on.

Recently the lad sent a letter to M. Lunacharsky begging to be allowed to take a vacation so that he might play for his native Russians. The request was granted and the people hail their "under-kind" with a depth of emotion known only to Russians.

Girl Injured In Auto Accident

Miss Jessie Fea of 3200 L street, Sacramento, narrowly escaped serious injury when the automobile in which she was riding skidded on the wet pavement on San Pablo avenue yesterday afternoon and crashed into a street car.

Miss Fea was taken to the Abbot Emergency hospital where she received treatment from Dr. L. St. John Hely. She sustained cuts on both legs.

Scots Complete Dinner Plans

Richmond Pyramid of Scots at their meeting in the Richmond clubhouse last night made final plans for the dinner dance to be held tonight at the Berkeley Country club. It was stated by Toparch George Lohr Jr. after the meeting that reservations for this dinner could be made with him as late as 2 o'clock this afternoon.

March 30 will be 'Ladies Night' and Al Curtis, Homer Patterson, and W. F. Wilson are making plans for the entertainment that will be featured that evening. Adolph Nelson, director of the Scots band, featured the evening las. night with a stunt when it was mentioned by Toparch some pleasing antics for the assembled members. A hint of a pleasing meeting to be held March 16 was dropped last night when it was mentioned by Toparch Lohr that a man who had ridden across the continent on a bicycle 30 years ago would address the Richmond Scots.

Troop 3 Girl Scouts Change Name To Pine Cone Group

Henceforth Troop No. 3 of the Girl Scouts will be known as the Pine Cone Troop. The three patrols of the troops chose their names. They are as follows: Patrol 1 will be known as the pine tree patrol; Patrol 2, the Oak Patrol; and Patrol 3, the Pine Cone patrol. The emblem of the troop is the pine cone and the troop colors are green and bronze.

Several of the members of Troop 3 will serve refreshments at the meeting of the United Veterans of the Republic, Saturday evening, March 3 in Memorial hall.

Richmond Rebekahs Honor Visitors At Meeting

Richmond lodge of Rebekahs No. 206 held a class initiation in Odd Fellows hall last night attended by visitors from Michigan, Indiana, besides many members from the California lodges. District Deputy President Ella B. Askerman of Rodeo, was the guest of honor at the initiation.

The drill team under the captaincy of Mrs. Margaret Shea put on the initiatory work and Noble Grand Matron Phillips presided. Following the services a banquet was served under the direction of Mrs. Alexander Pirie, and this was followed by a social time.

Mothers Bill Held Sure Of Being Voted By Senators

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Gold Star Mothers' bill, providing for a pilgrimage to France this summer of the mothers of America's soldier dead, was assured of prompt and sympathetic consideration in the Senate today.

After a conference with Senator Wagner (D) of New York, Chairman Reed of the Senate military affairs committee announced that the measure will be taken up by the committee next Friday, preparatory to reporting it to the Senate.

The bill has already passed the House with flying colors and thus far no vestige of opposition to its passage has arisen in the Senate.

For that reason the committee may be able to consider the bill and make its report without the necessity of holding public hearings. Indications are that it will be approved by the committee in exactly the same form in which it passed the House.

Unless a legislative jam ties up the Senate, sponsors of the bill believe that its passage by that body within the next few weeks may reasonably be expected. President Coolidge is expected to give it his prompt approval.

Senator Wagner, one of its most ardent supporters said: "I have every expectation of prompt action by the Senate on this bill. It will be a great pilgrimage of peace."

SOLONS PASS BILL AGAINST 'POWER TRUST'

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Senate took giant strides toward elimination of the "lobby evil" today by passing the Caraway bill requiring registration of all lobbyists.

Violation of its provisions would be punished by imprisonment for from one to twelve months coupled with a fine ranging from $100 to $1,000.

The measure passed unanimously without a record vote and with only a few feeble protests heard in opposition.

It was evident that Senate resentment against the "power trust" lobby, which recently throttled the resolution for Senate investigation of the electric power industry, hastened passage of the bill.

Proponents of the measure will make valiant efforts to have it pass the House this session, and thus pave the way for its enactment into law. Fear was expressed, however, that the "reactionary" element in control of that body might succeed in "burying" the bill in committee, a policy which has proved very effective in the past.

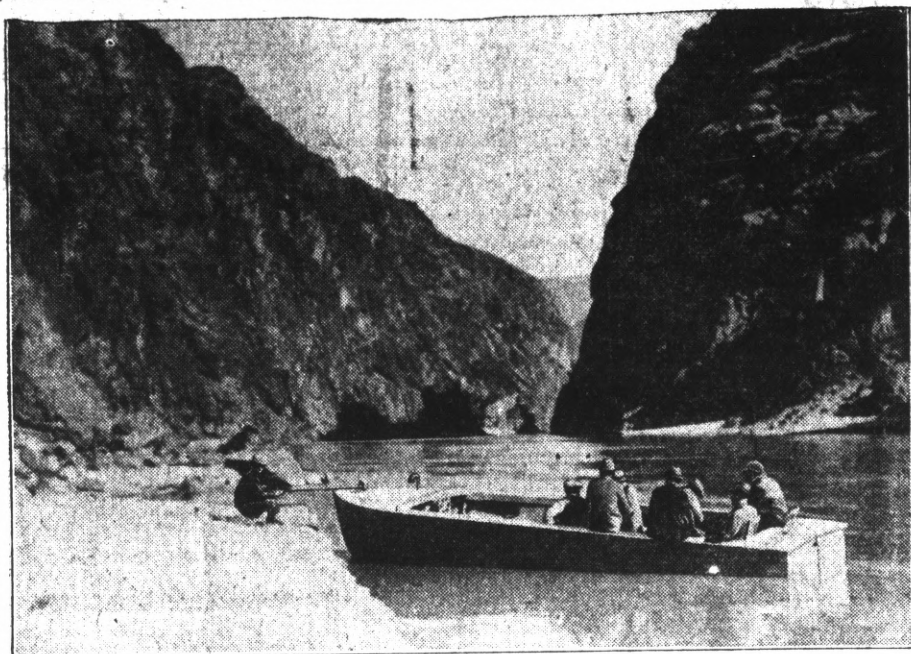

The measure provides that each lobbyist seeking to influence Congress must file a complete statement disclosing the interests, corporate or private, by whom he is employed; the salary he receives; and the legislation he hopes to have enacted or defeated.

This provision would apply to all persons seeking to influence Congress whether by "distributing literature, appearing before committees of Congress, or interviewing or seeking to interview individual members of either the House of Representatives or Senate." This last proviso was an admitted attempt to reach the "social lobby," which is especially strong in the Capital.

"The Power Trust" lobby was given a clean bill during debate on the measure by Senator Blaise Democrat, of South Carolina, who declared that no one approached him and he had no evidence of any other Senator being approached.

Senator Bruce, Democrat, of Maryland, likewise declared that representatives of power companies had full right to appear before the Senate committee as they did. Neither Blaise or Bruce, however, objected to the bill on the ground that such action would be construed as an attempt to "defend lobbying."

Boulder Dam Site

Party of Government engineers inspecting Boulder Canyon dam site on the Colorado River where it is proposed to erect the world's largest flood control dam. The project is unique in that it is to be financed entirely from the water and hydro-electric power it will make available.

With the Colorado River threatening to break over its banks and permanently destroy a dozen towns, the homes of a hundred thousand people and a million acres of fertile farm land in Arizona and Southern California, the Department of the Interior is preparing to push forward the construction of Boulder Canyon flood control dam immediately upon the adoption of legislation now pending in both houses of Congress.

Boulder Canyon is situated 125 miles below the Grand Canyon and is in that section of the river that forms the boundary line between Arizona and Nevada. According to plans already prepared by Department of the Interior engineers, Boulder Dam will be 550 feet high and will create a reservoir 80 miles long and 30 miles wide, capable of holding 20,000,000 acre feet of water. It will be the world's largest dam and will be twice as high as the largest dam now in existence.

Acting on the recommendation of Dr. Hubert Work, Secretary of the Interior, authors of pending Boulder Dam legislation have written into the bill a provision which specifies that the government is not to expend a single dollar on the project until the Interior Department has received from private and public agencies in the Southwest sufficient contracts for the sale of water and hydro-electric power rights to guarantee the return of all money expended on the dam plus interest.

Construction of Boulder Dam will provide a site for the development of a million horsepower of hydro-electric energy, according to government engineers. Legislation providing for Boulder Dam has been favorably passed upon by the house committee on reclamation and is scheduled to come on the floor of the House for action the latter part of March. It has been announced by Congressman Addison T. Smith, chairman of the committee.

WASHINGTON IS SUSPICIOUS OF ARMS PARLEY

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A British proposal for a new naval arms conference was viewed with suspicion here today by high officials who fear that it is little more than a move to halt the American navy building program now before Congress.

The British are reported to have handed a note to the French government as a preliminary to having the powers met at Geneva to consider reducing the size of capital ships and other related questions.

Such a proposal at this time, it was stated, can have but one purpose, that is to encourage those who have already succeeded in materially curtailing the program submitted by the administration to suspend it entirely until after the suggested conference.

It was made plain at the State Department that the United States considers such a conference a waste of time. It was explained that as a matter of precedent and courtesy an invitation would be accepted, but that there is no way in which agreements can be reached.

It was pointed out in the first place that the United States has just appointed a delegation to attend a limitation of armaments conference under the auspices of the League of Nations, where the powers also have representatives. Any and all questions may well be taken up there, it was stated, since at the four previous conferences they have had little to discuss.

On the British suggestion for reducing the size of battleships, the State Department declared that this question is one for the limitation of armaments conference which meets in this city in 1931 for the revision of the 1923 treaties in which the flower of the American navy was scrapped.

New Service Facilitates Phone Calls To Crockett

A new and faster telephone service to Crockett, from San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and San Leandro has been opened by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, it is announced by G. R. Calvert, district manager for the company. With the new method, known as "number service" in effect, it is now just as easy to place telephone calls to Crockett from San Francisco and the East Bay cities as it is to place local calls.

In describing the establishment of number service from the bay cities to Crockett, Calvert said, "When telephone calls are placed from the East Bay or San Francisco to Crockett, it is now only necessary for the calling party to lift the receiver, give the operator desired number, and then hold the line, as in placing a local call. The called party at Crockett is then connected with

CLAIMS LOWER ESTATE VALUE OF VALENTINO

LOS ANGELES, March 2.—Business and personal affairs of a popular film idol were revealed by the large number of claims filed and allowed in Judge Charles S. Crail's court against the estate of the late Rudolph Valentino.

The claims came to light with the filing of a current account showing the receipts and disbursements of George Ullman, executor, in connection with the annual business of the estate.

One claim of $160,000 was filed by John D. Beyer, trustee in bankruptcy for the Beverly Ridge Company, on a contract for the purchase of 111 acres of land.

Another one of the larger claims was filed by Ullman and was for $48,515 advanced by Ullman to help finance the production of a film entitled "What Price Beauty" which starred Natacha Rambova, second wife of Valentino.

Efforts to market the film have been made since Valentino's death it was stated.

Lee C. Balch was allowed $1,873 due on bill of $5,198 for landscaping the premises on Bella drive.

A number of debts for wearing apparel were contracted by Valentino in 1925, it was indicated by bills from merchants in London and Paris.

Harold Budd, 242 Piedmont Avenue, London, a shirt fitter, was allowed $77.70 for thirty-nine black bows and thirty white bows bought in November, 1925.

Sidney Horan, Sheppard of 13 Saville Row, London, a tailor, was allowed $2,059.77 for dress coats, dinner jackets and other apparel. A similar claim for shirts, collars, handkerchiefs and undergarments totaling $1,120.13, was allowed George Frederick Augustus Macklin, 13 Harewood Place, London, hosiery and shirt maker.

ALWON CLUB HOLDS SOCIAL AFTERNOON

Mrs. Blanche Harley was hostess to the members of the Alwon club when they met yesterday afternoon at her home, 739 Barrett avenue. Card games were enjoyed and awards for high scores were given to Mrs. Eleanor Perry and Mrs. Ruby Allen. Mrs. Mildred Neilan was given the consolation award. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ruby Allen, 439 Fifth street.

Physician Talks To Rotarians

In the discussion of Dr. Harry Spiro before the members of the Rotary club in the Hotel Carquinez yesterday, the disastrous effect of anger and worry upon the heart was adequately brought out by the speaker. The address was presented in language intelligible to the average layman and was greatly appreciated by all those present. Dr. U. S. Abbott presided in the absence of Walter T. Helms, and Dr. W. E. Cunningham was chairman of the day.

Two new members were received into the club and R. W. Timmons and Frank Mero received the congratulations of the club for their unique wedding anniversary. The new members are Virgil Fener, insurance man, and Herman Meltman, Richmond manager of the East Bay Water company. Past president H. A. Johnston, had charge of the ceremony.

The uniqueness of the wedding anniversary of Timmons and Mero lies in the fact that the two men were married to sisters, on February 29, some years ago, and because of the leap year marriage, it has been suggested that Richmond Rotarians make the event a memorable affair in 1932.
